Larson-Juhl Announces Garrett Moulding Acquisition

Atlanta (August 2015) – Garrett Moulding and Larson-Juhl are pleased to announce that Garrett Moulding Inc. has merged into Larson-Juhl.

Both companies have a long history of manufacturing beautiful hardwood picture frame mouldings in the United States. Larson-Juhl CEO Drew Van Pelt said, “We saw Garrett Moulding’s expertise in hand-stained hardwoods and agility in custom designed mouldings as the perfect opportunity to grow our capabilities in Ashland, Wisconsin and better serve our customers. We look forward to working with Tom and Debbie Bergen to offer Garrett’s beautiful products to our custom framers and to continue their traditions of product innovation and service excellence.”

Garrett Moulding has created a loyal following since 1969 with high-quality, Made in America mouldings. Co-owners Tom and Debbie Bergen will join Larson-Juhl’s business development team and will initially focus on ensuring a smooth transition for Garrett customers. “We are grateful to our loyal customers for helping us build the Garrett line and we believe that Larson-Juhl’s industry leading service and extensive delivery network make them the ideal partner for introducing Garrett hardwoods to more framers across the country,” says CEO Tom Bergen.

Garrett Moulding orders will be fulfilled by Larson-Juhl after August 28th. For more information about the Garrett transition and product availability, please visit larsonjuhl.com.
